Community access to the University of Sydney Library

The Academic Board of the University of Sydney endorsed the following resolution (no.170/05) at its meeting of 15 June 2005.

Use of the University Library collections, facilities and services should be available to anyone who abides by University regulations and who has a legitimate learning or research need. Access to some collections, services and facilities may be restricted to University of Sydney staff and students to ensure that they are not disadvantaged by demand from other users. The University Librarian will be responsible, in accordance with the University of Sydney By-law 1999 (as amended), for determining access conditions which may be varied from time to time.
