

Searching for electronic journals

Journals include serials, magazines, newspapers and other material which appears regularly and sequentially. Use the online Library catalogue to find journals in either printed or electronic form.

Searching for an electronic journal by title

1. Choose a journal title search.
2. Type in the name of the journal.
3. Choose the collection scope “e-journals” from the drop box.
4. Click the Search Button.
5. The electronic journals matching the typed title will be listed.

The screenshot shows a search interface with a text input field containing "journal of marketing". To the right of the input field is a dropdown menu currently set to "entire collection". The dropdown menu is open, showing options: "e-resources", "e-journals" (which is highlighted in blue), "e-books", and "entire collection". To the right of the dropdown menu is a "Search" button.

Please note. It is often necessary to follow the links of all catalogue entries for an electronic journal to be certain of finding fulltext access to the journal.

Searching for an electronic journal by subject

1. Choose a subject search.
2. Type the subject into the Subject Search box.
3. Choose the collection scope “e-journals” from the drop box.
4. Click the Search button.
5. A subject search for Archaeology will retrieve a list of electronic journal with Archaeology as the subject

The screenshot shows a search interface with a text input field containing "archaeology". To the right of the input field is a dropdown menu currently set to "entire collection". The dropdown menu is open, showing options: "e-resources", "e-journals" (which is highlighted in blue), "e-books", and "entire collection". To the right of the dropdown menu is a "Search" button.

Please note. It is often necessary to follow the links of all catalogue entries for an electronic journal to be certain of finding fulltext access to the journal.

Searching for an electronic journal by keyword

1. Choose a keyword search.
2. Type the keywords into the Keyword Search box.
3. Choose the collection scope “e-journals” from the drop box.
4. Click the Search Button.
5. The electronic journals matching the keywords will be listed.

Keyword Search

Anywhere: ▾	europa	And ▾
Anywhere: ▾	history	And ▾
Anywhere: ▾	peasants	And ▾ Anywhere: ▾

Limit to: e-journals ▾

Material Type: e-resources
e-journals
e-books
entire collection

Please note. It is often necessary to follow the links of all catalogue entries for an electronic journal to be certain of finding fulltext access to the journal.